Spend a day with sketchbook and brush,
gathering images from the natural world.
Working with the ancient principles of heaven, earth and human we will join brushstroke and voice on the page to reveal and illuminate the outer and the inner landscape.

Following the illustrated journaling practice of her book True Nature, Barbara Bash will guide this artistic exploration of an spring day.
This is the fourth in a series of day-long workshops focusing on each season of the year. You do not need to have attended the previous workshops to participate in this one. No previous art experience necessary.

Barbara Bash is a calligrapher, illustrator, author and performance artist.
She has written and illustrated many books on natural history for adults and children. She also teaches workshops in expressive brush calligraphy.

Cost : $85. (includes lunch)
